PRESIDENT MESSAGE

Dr. Rajal Thaker
President

Dear AOGS members,

Wishing you all Health and Happiness in 2019.

Happy and feel proud to receive 'Champions of FOGSI - President Dr Jaydeep Malhotra's appreciation award for AOGS's work in improving women's Health on behalf of all AOGS members. Indeed a proud moment for all of us...Also congratulations to both secretaries of MMCON for receiving appreciation award by FOGSI.

Do enjoy the Festival of kite flying but please take care of birds and human life as so many are injured and dead due to strings and even after uttrayan, large number of birds are affected due to strings that are lying on terraces and trees So, take care to remove those strings.

Celebrate our Republic Day with pride as we are the largest democracy in the world and support the welcome gesture of Government to say 'Jai Hind' instead of 'yes sir'

Although I have served AOGS in various capacities, responsibility of a President is even bigger..But I pray to Almighty that with wishes and support form all AOGS members and my Team, I would be able to fulfil your expectations.

TEAM means Together Everyone Achieves More

Sab ka saath Sab ka Vikas

Long Live AOGS

Dr. Rajal Thaker

26th January
Happy Republic Day

HON. SECRETARY MESSAGE

Dr. Kamini Patel
Hon. Secretary

Wishing our entire AOGS family a Very Happy New Year!!

As a man was passing the elephants, he suddenly stopped, confused by the fact that these huge creatures were being held by only a small rope tied to their front leg. No chains, no cages. It was obvious that the elephants could, at anytime, break away from their bonds but for some reason, they did not.

He saw a trainer nearby and asked why these animals just stood there and made no attempt to get away. "Well," trainer said, "when they are very young and much smaller we use the same size rope to tie them and, at that age, it's enough to hold them. As they grow up, they are conditioned to believe they cannot break away. They believe the rope can still hold them, so they never try to break free."

The man was amazed. These animals could at any time break free from their bonds but because they believed they couldn't, they were stuck right where they were.

Like the elephants, how many of us go through life hanging onto a belief that we cannot do something, simply because we failed at it once before?

Failure is part of learning; we should never give up the struggle in life.

Keeping the spirits of giving the best to the society, we are honored and blessed to receive the "Champions of FOGSI - President Dr. Jaydeep Malhotra's appreciation award for AOGS's work in improving women's health on behalf of all AOGS Members.

Congratulations for the successful completion of IMS West Zone Conference on December 22-23, 2018.

Let's start our new book of 365 pages and write a new helpful, motivated and positive chapter each day.

May the Force be With Us.

Haibat Khan's Mosque

The mosque is located to south-west of Dastur Khan's Mosque near Jamalpur gate. It was built by Haibat Khan, one of Ahmed Shah I's nobles, possibly on the site of a Hindu temple. Though of little beauty, this mosque is one of the earliest attempts to combine Islamic and Hindu elements of architecture. The front wall is plain, pierced by three small pointed arches; the minarets small and without ornament, rise from the roof; and, with a dwarfed and unlighted clerestory, the centre is barely raised above the side domes. Inside, in the centre, is a dome with beautiful carvings, and pillars taken from different Hindu temples with variety of rich ornament.

Plan of Haibat Khan's mosque at Ahmadabad in Gujarat from James Burgess' 'Original Drawings of Muhammadan Architecture of Ahmadabad.' Sultan Ahmad Shah (r.1411-42) founded the city of Ahmadabad in 1411 and was responsible for the construction of several buildings and mosques. The city's development was assisted by the patronage of other noblemen at Ahmad Shah's court, including Haibat Khan, who built the Haibat Khan mosque in 1425. It lies north-east of the Jamalpur gate in the southern part of the city. Similar in design to Ahmad Shah's mosque (c.1414), this mosque utilized Hindu architectural and decorative features which included the use of pillars from an earlier temple that had been salvaged.
